We have gone over this matter quite carefully and feel that the revision of the PHS achieves a nice balance between that information we feel necessary for investigative purposes and at the same time complying to the degree possible with the Civil Service Commission's position on questions in the area of arrests and court-martials. I ask your approval to proceed and revise our PHS with these changes. This is somewhat urgent as our stock of PHS forms is getting quite low and we must re-order a new supply.

Mr. Echols talked to Kimbel Johnson of the CSC and the substance of that meeting is reflected in Mr. Echols' attached memorandum. It was not considered necessary that we inform the CSC of our course of action as we can consider the meeting with Johnson as satisfying of this relationship.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Support

SUBJECT : Revision of CIA Personal History Statement

1. This memorandum submits a recommendation for your approval; this recommendation is contained in paragraph 3.
2. In order to conform as closely to FPM Letter No. 731-2 and the language used in the revised Civil Service Form 57, we have studied carefully the desirability of revising the items on our Personal History Statement which relate to arrests, court martials and other possible derogatory elements. We have concluded that a revision of Section XXIV can be accomplished without affecting to any great extent our acquisition of essential information.
3. With this in mind we have revised our wording of Form 444, Personal History Statement (Tab A). The essential differences between our revision and the revised wording of Standard Form 57 are as follows:
 - a. The CIA PHS has no minimum age limit in the arrest question (Item 10) whereas the revised wording in Standard Form 57 raises the age minimum to 21. We have found in recent years an increasing number of cases in which applicants have committed serious offenses while under age 21. Use of narcotics, LSD drugs, and automobile thefts are examples. Convictions at any age for serious offenses are considered important information in our screening processes.
 - b. Revised CIA PHS requests information concerning special as well as general court martial (Item 11). Standard Form 57 (Item 38) asks only for information concerning a general court martial. A special court may adjudge penalties such as bad conduct discharge, and up to six months confinement. Included among the offenses that subjects one to a special court martial are assault with battery, minor thefts or minor larceny, unlawful entry, impersonating an officer without intent to defraud, and absence without leave for a relatively long period of time. We believe a history of such offenses is meaningful in our security evaluation of applicants.
 - c. The revised PHS (Item 12) requests information concerning any incidents which may be discovered in subsequent investigation and which the applicant may desire to explain. Our present PHS does not leave the decision up to the applicant and uses the word unfavorable. Standard Form 57 does not have a comparable question. We have found that the majority of applicants are eager to resolve any suitability questions at the earliest possible phase in the processing of their applications and we believe that most will continue to provide such information. The revised wording of our form permits him to withhold such information, of course, if he desires to do so.

SUBJECT: Revision of CIA Personal History Statement

Tab B is the wording used at this time in our Personal History Statement.

3. It is recommended that you approve the revised wording of CIA Form 444, Personal History Statement, as set forth in Tab A.
